

Case-Study

Latifa – A Young Survivor

At the age of 18, when youngsters enjoy their blooming youth, Latifa was diagnosed with Hepatitis. She is the daughter of Ali Murad Lashari and lives in the community of Kamal Khan Lashari, district Khairpur.

Latifa used to be a school going child but due to physical illness she was unable to cope up with her fellow class mates which led her to psychological frustration as well. Since she wanted to study further and do something for her people.

However, being identified as a Hepatitis B+ve patient her body demanded for more rest rather than physical stress. As a result she had to quit school and be at home. As an initiative of Hepatitis Prevention & Control Program, OSDI facilitated this ailing girl with medicines and proper medical treatment. After which, she not only recovered from this disease but, has also resumed her studies once again.

Her family is relieved to see their daughter back to normal and thanks God for providing them the support of OSDI in helping poor people like them who cannot afford treatment on their own.

